Hi Mom and Dad and Joan and friends, Tues. 7 [Nov. 1972; mentions Thanksgiving]

Yes. I voted. [Say hi to Bill if he stops in]

Nice letter. Sounds like at least things are under control and operating smoothly even though there might be a lot going on. Yum, I can't wait for those congo squares I hope you get around to baking them, Mom.

This week is preregistration for Spring semester. I'm taking the other half of Physics and chemistry plus a course in Comparative anatomy and Adolescent Psychology.

I did well on both my tests last Wed (Chem & Phys). I got a 90 on my Chemistry test and a 94 on my Physics test. My average is now very close to if not a B in Chemistry and Physics is a solid B. I'm studying today for a Chemistry quiz. Then next week I have two tests in my other two courses (Personality & Embryology).

Thanksgiving is getting pretty close. I don't know any more about when I'll be finished classes on Tues (or on Mon, if I don't have classes on Tues).

Take it easy everyone.

Love,

Mike
