Dear folks,

Tues. Morn [1972]

I just had the Embryology test. It wasn't hard. I hope I get a good grade on it because I knew the material pretty well.

I got a 10 (perfect score) on my Pysics quiz Friday. I have a chemistry quiz tomorrow. I'm taking a break right now from studying chemistry. Also besides preparation for chemistry & physics lab (which I'm pretty well prepared for-did it this morning and last night) I have another physics quiz Friday and the Personality test the same day.

I have some time on the weekends. I wrote a short paper and began studying for embryology this past weekend.

yes, the semester ends before Christmas. I doubt that Melinda likes this area any better, though she does seem happy here. It's nice to know that a package is coming and more mail. Its nice to be loved, thanks.

Till next time. Love, Mike
